

FOLLOW THE BIOSAFETY PRINCIPLES TO AVOID THE DISEASE ENTERING YOUR FARM

Assess your biosafety measures and make improvements if necessary:

- Restrict access to the farm – entrance allowed only in case of need and for authorised persons.
- Avoid moving between farms, incl. sharing tools and machinery with other farms.
- Wash and disinfect all footwear and tools, machinery before and after entering the farm. The surfaces to be disinfected must be clean otherwise the disinfectant will not work.
- Avoid bringing foreign animals, feed or straw bales to the farm's territory without checking their origin.
- Make sure all workers are familiar with the biosafety measures and follow these every day.
- People who arrive from abroad are not permitted entry to animal housing before 48 hours have passed from their arrival in Estonia.
- Keep the animal you bring to the herd separate from the animals in the farm.
- Separate the ill animal from healthy animals.
- Use pest control for mice and insects.
- Make sure wild and stray animals cannot enter animal housing and farm territory.
- Observe the health of the animals daily and in case of any suspicion of a disease contact a veterinary specialist immediately.
