

HOW DOES THE FOOT-AND- MOUTH DISEASE SPREAD?

Immediately inform a veterinarian and the Agriculture and Food Board of a suspected disease.

HOW DOES THE DISEASE SPREAD?

Direct contact with animal

Can spread directly.

Bedding, manure, fodder

If the animals are infected, everything they have contacted is contaminated.

Meat products, milk and dairy products

The disease can be spread by human food.

Footwear, clothes, transport means, etc.

The virus is easily transferred.

Wind

The foot-and-mouth disease spreads also by wind.